RICH ROMANCE!

BUNNY WILLIAMS, INC.

PLAYROOM

"Children, fun, and entertainment were all on my mind while I was thinking about this space, but good design is also about practicality," Williams says. "We had to build storage closets in the room and an architecturally interesting wall for televisions. The Tretford carpet is both great looking and wears like iron, and kids love to play on colorful, durable furniture. The whimsical three-dimensional wall mural by Artgroove just makes you smile."

MR CALL DESIGNS

BEDROOM

"The initial idea was a traditional men's library," says firm principal Jon Call, "with a feeling of sitting by a fire, wrapped in a blanket. Carlyle Sofa fabricated the couch, headboards, and ottomans, which are plush and enveloping and keep the steeply pitched room from feeling empty and cavernous. This project has made us all more passionate designers. Ronald McDonald House has definitely worked its magic on me."
